

Pure Yankee Ingenuity

Massachusetts Bay Trading Company is dedicated to promoting the rich heritage of Massachusetts and the quality of the products originating here. We have carefully selected a cross section of Boston-area jewelry that embody the quality and diversity for which the state is renowned

The fine charms and brooches on this page are handcrafted in 100% sterling silver. Every Hand & Hammer Silversmith piece is made in the same manner today as centuries ago. We guarantee the quality and integrity of materials and workmanship in every piece. Also available in 14k gold.

Anne Brown has been creating art-to-wear in the form of necklaces, pins, earrings, bracelets and clothes for a number of years. Her work ranges from the simple beaded necklace to conceptual jewelry assemblages fabricated in resin and metal.

JEWELRY
GIFT GUIDE

Valerie Gates is an award-winning art director, fashion photographer, designer, film director, and principal of Gates Studio in Wellesley, Massachusetts. She began her line of SeaGlassWear jewelry in July, 2002 after her aunt passed away and left five 8-gallon buckets full of beautiful seaglass collected over 40 years.

A native of Woods Hole, Cape Cod, Valerie spent summers combing the beaches for sea glass and worn sea stones. Although she spent several years in southern California and Italy, Valerie says, "I like the seasons in Massachusetts, with the red and gold falling leaves in Autumn and the sparkling ocean in the Summer. I like the old farmhouses with red barns within commuting distance to Boston; the intellectual mix of professors, artists, dreamers and doers."
